Dear Alfred Mayaki

Congratulations on your successful application to The University of Buckingham. We are delighted to confirm the details of your offer:

PhD Economics: Jan - 2027
Conditional Offer: Subject to a satisfactory reference.

Course Duration	3 Years
Course start date	18 January 2027
Course end date	14 December 2029
Tuition fee for the whole course is[1, 2]:	£24800
Total payment required to register:	£2500

The amount of the tuition fee above directly payable by you may be lower after taking account of any scholarships or bursaries awarded by the University, and any student loan you secure from the Student Loans Company. If you are in receipt of a UK student loan, it may not cover your full tuition fee.

Our detailed Fees Policy which is reviewed and updated from time to time can be found here.

Reasons why Buckingham should be your 1st choice:

The University of Buckingham was founded on a vision of independence and academic freedom, and our belief in the importance of passing these traditions on to future generations. This saw us shortlisted for University of the Year in the Sunday Times Good University Guide 2024.

[1]The University reserves the right to review and adjust tuition fees annually. Any increases generally represent cost inflation since fees were set that cannot be otherwise mitigated.

Students will be notified of any changes to tuition fees in the academic year in advance of the new academic year. This notification will include the percentage increase and the new fee amount.

The University will provide a clear explanation and justification for any fee increases

[2]If you have received written confirmation of a scholarship, bursary, discount, sponsorship and/or student or other loan entitlement, your fees payable will be adjusted accordingly.

We are immensely proud of our commitment to personalised learning and our small group tutorials and seminars where students and academics can engage in authentic dialogue and testing of their ideas. This commitment saw us ranked 1st for Freedom of Expression in the National Student Survey 2023. We also believe in providing high-quality person-centred services delivered with passion and care.

We're ready to welcome you to our community of independent thinkers from all over the world!

We look forward to welcoming you to The University of Buckingham soon. If you need any help or further information, please do not hesitate to contact me or a member of the admissions team.

Yours sincerely,

Erin Jones

Your next steps:

To make your enrolment as simple as possible, please follow the Pre-Enrolment Checklist below.

PRE-ENROLMENT CHECKLIST
STUDENT ID NUMBER: 2613520

Step 1. Understand your offer
Please read the Student Contract before accepting your offer. This explains your rights and responsibilities as a prospective student, including your rights regarding cancellation of the Student Contract. Please also read the enclosed programme specification. This explains the programme structure and course fees.

Step 2. Accept your offer
Please complete and return the enclosed Acceptance statement in the Student Contract. Doing so constitutes your agreement to the Student Contract and the Terms and Conditions therein.
Please note this must be signed by hand.

Step 3. Pay the fee required for you to register
You may, if you wish, pay the entirety of the first year's fees (£8267).
Please visit our website for methods of payment:
www.buckingham.ac.uk/admissions/payment-methods

Step 4. Prepare for your arrival
Please consider the location of Buckingham when choosing your accommodation. Buckingham is a short drive from Milton Keynes and has great transport links from the nearby train stations: Milton Keynes and Bicester North. Please see our website for our exact location. We recommend students only consider commuting to Buckingham if they intend to live within a 20-mile radius. Public transport links from Milton Keynes, Oxford, Bedford and Northampton are easily accessible for commuting.
